Are you stuck in a reading rut? Do you keep going back to the same author over and over because you don't know what else to read? Would you like to have some new material to cozy up by the fire to read or have you stopped reading altogether since having kids? Book club will give us a bit of background on what they are reading and how their meetings run. We'll then break into groups by different genres and discuss good books, authors and their styles. We ask all members to bring a snack and a book they have enjoyed to trade, swap or give to another member. If you don't have a book or don't wish to participate in a trade, please bring a list of books or authors that you have enjoyed.
